

Vermont Psychiatric Care Hospital Policy

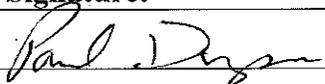

Orientation, Conditions of Employment, Conflicts of Interest

Revised: X

Date:

Being an employee of the Vermont Psychiatric Care Hospital (VPCH) is a position of public trust that requires certain obligations related to treatment of other individuals and promotion of VPCH's interests. This policy summarizes the orientation, conditions of employment and general ethical principles of VPCH with which every employee is expected to comply.

All staff members shall be oriented to their role and responsibilities and attest to their understanding of all requirements for retaining employment at The Vermont Psychiatric Care Hospital.
