(CINN) What is the policy regarding customer service or client engagement? Are there policies that ensure that providers respond to clients within a specific timeframe? <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- If anyone asks for records, we have to respond within a certain timeframe</li><li>- Similarly, if someone has a grievance, we response within a certain timeframe</li><li>- Informally, we try to have an Open Door policy if clients have any questions, do get some calls from folks, try to be as prompt as possible, and respond to the call as soon as it comes in</li></ul> 6. (SUNNY) p.4 Please explain and give a few examples of how "CSAC does change well, with intentionality, not just fast. (RBL - to clarify - I believe you entirely and would benefit from a few positive stories - thank you) <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- LuAnn remembers when Cheryle asked, "can we be a trauma informed organization?" a few years ago – and we have been moving in this direction ever since and we're not fully there yet.</li><li>- Change is hard and we do it respectfully, intentionally, and try to get peoples' input.</li><li>- CSAC is very non-hierarchical and that can mean that we can do some things slowly.</li><li>- Per Dave Melnick, establishing a trauma informed culture – takes time and is a squiggly path.</li><li>- CYFS is really nimble, responsive. LuAnn is constantly working with her team on how do we do better, good customer service, meet the needs of the community</li></ul> 7. (RON) pp. 6-7 Please tell us how CSAC is processing staff concerns and practice with the CANS. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- LuAnn has a staff that is very outspoken about the CANS.</li><li>- Administrative burdens are real and contribute to staff attrition</li><li>- Often clinicians get trained/supervised at community mental health agency and then move into private practice where there's less administrative burden and higher pay.</li><li>- Is honest and open with her staff that there are things that they're required to do that staff may not think are valuable and may be out of our control.</li><li>- Asks questions like – what can we get out of it that is clinical and useful? Do we need more training in this? How do we get the full picture? Why do other people think it's important?</li></ul> 8. (CINN) p.11 Please tell us more about CSAC's embracing of Co-care. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- The term came from trainings with Dave Melnick on Reflective Supervision.</li></ul> |

|  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Concept is that as a culture/agency/community, that self-care isn't enough.</li><li>- Self care implies that the responsibility is on the individual. Burden is on the individual. Why is it that if I do yoga and go for a run, I'm still feeling burned out?</li><li>- Co-Care implies that care is a systems level responsibility. We are all here for each other, from a community perspective.</li><li>- How can we be more intentional about co-care?<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>o CYFS Co-Care Committee – had a Co-Care event in the fall. Brought people together and discussed the concept, had fun activities, what can we do more.</li><li>o Now the committee is looking at incorporating Co-Care initiatives throughout the year. Want to keep the concept real and alive.</li></ul></li><li>- A big part of this is having fun! Laughing together and enjoying each other.</li></ul> 9. (SUNNY) p.11 Please tell a specific positive story about a client's desire for changing providers. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Had a client's parent who felt communication with case manager wasn't going smoothly.</li><li>- First step, LuAnn is chatting with this parent – what's working? What's not working? (Clinician was struggling with personal stuff and taking a lot of time off.)</li><li>- Then invited parent to join with her in speaking to clinician – she didn't want to do this.</li><li>- Unfortunately, had to put them on the waiting list until they had someone else available. They agreed to continue working together until a new case manager was available.</li><li>- New clinician was more responsive and that worked out much better.</li></ul> 10. (RON) p. 19 Sad to see that no youth/family were present for the Clients and Family gathering. Do you have any new thoughts about how to include family voice? <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- LuAnn says she's taking responsibility for this – she was supposed to invite more CYFS folks to this meeting and will do better outreach next time.</li></ul> 11. (CINN) Are there language support services for folks who do not speak English with fluency? What is the process for making people aware of and connecting people with language support services, such as staff who speak different languages? <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- One of their clinicians speaks Spanish. CYFS currently doesn't have connection to folks in the migrant population. Open Door has translators and LuAnn has reached out to them and asked for help with translation services.</li><li>- CSAC does have access to translators.</li><li>- LuAnn is also talking with</li><li>- (ACTION  Puja will follow up with CSAC regarding language access services, especially migrant workers' kids)</li></ul> 12. (SUNNY) How is CSAC's Parent Advisory Council collaborating with 2 other Designated Agencies' LPSCs. What are the strengths and weaknesses of this model? Who is lead on this Council if someone wanted to be involved? |

|  | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Strengths are that it allows for more folks to participate. If we're struggling to get a team of folks within each small community, this broadened it. Helps with thinking through what topics folks want to talk about.</li><li>- Diane Bugby facilitates the meetings. She'll get people to lead topics on the issues the group has identified.</li><li>- Additionally, CSAC's LPSC meets on it's own and has their own CYFS LPSC.</li><li>- LuAnn is in the process of rebuilding this CSAC centric LPSC. Asking, 'how do we engage folks and really have their voice heard?'</li><li>- Rachel thinks LuAnn has done an amazing job reviving the CYFS LPSC.</li><li>- Have 2 board members on the CYFS LPSC.</li></ul> 13. (RON) p.3 Please describe future plans with respect to the Trauma Transformation Group and Trauma Informed Training. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Had a class that went through a 5 month training with Dave Melnick. Staff had to apply and get accepted to this training and ensure a long term commitment to the agency.</li><li>- Next step is forming the Catalyst Group – they're the change agents, keeping this work moving forward. Have a lead of this group and also works with Dave, who will help establish this.</li><li>- Leadership Team is also engaged with Catalyst Group.</li><li>- Goal is that it is a staff engaged, staff lead effort.</li></ul> 14. (CINN) p.6 Please tell us more about the Resiliency Project. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Brainchild of Cheryle Huntley. The concept is to build community and connection, as well as leadership development. There's an inter-agency steering committee. Have been doing 2 things so far – 1) community connection lunches – any person from service providing agency within Addison County can come – have a conversation while having lunch. These have been hit-or-miss as folks may not have time. 2) Have Dave Melnick back for Reflective Supervision training with folks in this group (1-2 persons from each organization)</li><li>- CSAC CYFS have been trained in Trauma Transformation and have offered training to other organizations in Addison County.</li><li>- Bringing Ken Epstein back this summer to talk about transformation on a systems level, instead of an individual or organizational level.</li></ul> 15. (SUNNY) p.15 Please tell us more about the current performance and accessibility of the E-Team. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- E-Team is crisis services for adults. ACCESS is for children's crisis services.</li><li>- ACCESS is for youth and families. It runs from 9-5, M-F. E-Team will kick in for after those hours. So there is 24-7 coverage for kids and families.</li><li>- Can be reached via 988 Mobile Crisis Line or directly call into CSAC.</li><li>- Mobile Crisis is a 2-person model.</li><li>- If a family wants Mobile Crisis at location in the community, and if CSAC crisis has the staff, then will make it happen. Otherwise, when receive a crisis call, CSAC crisis clinician will speak to the person and determine what does the family need – does the family want to come in? Do we need to create a safety plan for</li></ul> |

We will write up notes on the call and send to the person. If acuity is very high, will bump them up in our priority list. If someone is not immediately available, ACCESS staff will hold them until someone is available. 16. (RON) p.16 Please tell us more about Interlude. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- An adult related crisis diversion program.</li></ul> 17. (CINN) p.17 Please tell us more about the Parent Advisory Council and their January open mic. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- An adult related program.</li></ul> 18. | Designation Options Discussion And Public Comment | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Puja said that areas that CSAC is currently working on Corrective Action Plan to fulfill Administrative Rule<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>o CRT Chart Review</li><li>o ADA Accessibility – 2 buildings under Corrective Action Plan to become fully compliant with ADA</li><li>o CSAC is acquiring a Medical Director, and is working to have an Interim Medical Director to fulfill responsibilities in the meantime</li></ul></li><li>- Cinn said that Parent Reps for Coordinated Services Plan meet in Addison County and usually, if they have a problem</li><li>- Aaron reflected that he heard CSAC was stressed for money and staffing. There was no clear answer on wait times, just on prioritizing acuity. Concerned about the “hot potato” regarding who responds with crisis situations – regarding either police or the agency.</li><li>- Sunny shared that anytime they hear a professional opinion, that, in this setting that we’re in right now is not as good as in-person, when we live in a hybrid world, and also about developing future</li></ul> |
